

Better Business Bureau Extends Educational Resources to Sailors

The Council of Better Business Bureaus (CBBB) has created a Web site tailored specifically for Sailors and their families worldwide to access BBB services and specialized Navy consumer services.

The CBBB Web site provides information and assistance services, including business reliability reports, dispute resolution, consumer education, reviews of charitable organizations, and lists of online companies pledged to meet Better Business Bureau (BBB) standards.

The CBBB will work closely with the Fleet and Family Support Program to develop special educational materials and services to help educate and protect military consumers.

Visit the Web site at <http://navy.bbb.org>.
